

EARTH OBSERVATION IS SUPPORT OF GOVERNMENT POLICY

A Fortescue
CSIR SAC

This presentation will focus on real world examples of where Earth Observation has made a direct positive impact on supporting government policy. It will include examples in the sphere of disaster management, land invasions, informal settlement monitoring, quantification of electrification backlogs, monitoring of water use and transgressors of the water act, intelligence, peace safety and security, food security and drought. The examples will focus on South African case studies